

*One Egg Every Two Weeks
One Spoon of Butter Every Seven Days*

"JUST BACK FROM GERMANY"

By Blanche Slocum—Protegee of Mary Garden

The Latest Inside Truths of Conditions in Germany
as They Are Today—Told by Blanche Slocum Who Arrived in America from Germany Last Week

Starts in Next Sunday's Times

Do you want to know the inside truth about Germany? Do you want to know the uncensored, unbiased, PURE FACTS of conditions in Germany as they are right now? Do you want to know what the German people think of America—of you—TODAY? Do you want to know what they think of the War—what they think of the Kaiser—what they think of Russia—what their food allowances are—how they live—how their business is affected—how their schools are operating—how their railroads are run—what they think of their future RIGHT NOW? Do you want first-hand information—the genuine, eye-witness story of these things just brought back from Berlin last week. Then read Blanche Slocum's amazing story—"Germany Today!"—beginning in next Sunday's Washington TIMES.

Blanche Slocum Is the last American permitted to leave Germany. She is a resident of Oak Park. She is a protegee of Mary Garden. She went to Germany four and one-half years ago to sing. In her travels through Germany in War-time she has come into intimate contact with the thoughts of the German people. She has learned their minds. She has watched their sufferings. She has lived their lives. She watched the effect President Wilson's messages produced on the German people. She saw America's entrance into the War from the inside of Germany. She was suspected of being a spy. She was detained from leaving Germany. And, on her return to America last week, she consented to write the story of her four and one-half years in Germany for The Washington TIMES.

One egg every two weeks one spoon of butter every seven days, no milk for anyone except children under two years of age or on doctors' prescriptions, margarine made of tallow and oil—these are some of the recent food regulations in Germany which Blanche Slocum tells of experiencing. This startling story of the true conditions in Germany today has never before been published. It will be presented for the first time beginning in next Sunday's TIMES and continuing daily and Sunday thereafter for two weeks. If you want to know the truth—if you want to know the personal attitude of the German people—if you want to know what the women and children of Germany are doing and what they think—don't miss this sensational fact story just brought from Berlin last week. It starts in next Sunday's Washington TIMES.

Know the Truth! Read Blanche Slocum's Remarkable Story—"Germany Today!"—Beginning in Next Sunday's

WASHINGTON TIMES